Red Wine

Cabernet Sauvignon

The classic profile of this cultivars known to be full bodied with high tannins & noticeable acidity which makes the aging potential superb. The most widely planted red wine grape in South Africa; Stellenbosch Cabernet Sauvignons are heavier, fuller bodied while Constantia's Cabernet Sauvignon wines are characterized by their herbal & minty flavours. The bold, assertive characteristics tend to overwhelm lighter, delicate dishes. Grilled & charred dishes pair well, as well as buttery sauces which neutralize the tannins and open the wines fruity flavours.

Middelvlei - Devon Valley 2016 - Intense dark blackberry / cherry flavour, subtle tannins	R448,00
Meinert - Devon Valley 2017 - Mix of red berry, cherry, spicy oak & hints of liquorice	R477,00
Thelema - Stellenbosch 2014 - Complex and stylish, with cassis and red fruit, rich tannins, and lovely long finish	R744,00
Vergelegen - Helderberg 2012 - Blackcurrant, spicy, plum & wood aromas. Full bodied wine with a rich finish	R928,00

Merlot

There are two main styles that Merlot producers' favour; one is emphasised late harvesting- which contributes to more full-bodied wines with higher alcohol levels. These tend to also have intense plum-blackberry flavours. While the more traditional style involves earlier harvesting to maintain acidity & produce medium bodied wines with fresh fruit flavour & often vegetal notes. Therefore, Merlot is one of the more diverse cultivars. South African Merlots tend to be made in a "chocolatey glossy California style". The diversity of Merlot lends itself to a wide array of food pairing options but like Cabernet Sauvignon they pair well with grilled & charred dishes as well as soft cheeses.

De Grendel - Durbanville 2019 - Full bodied, nose of berries, liquorice & mocha flavours	R445,00
Delheim - Stellenbosch 2018 - Mulberry, black cherry with cigar box finish	R362,00
Ken Forrester - Helderberg 2016 - Hints of coffee, blackberry with soft tannins	R387,00
Meinert - Devon Valley 2016 - French oak matured, cigar box, earthy tones	R494,00
Robert Alexander - Stellenbosch 2019 - Herb notes, mokka & fruity palate, spicy finish	R302,00
Stellekaya - Stellenbosch 2018 - dark berry fruit, earth, and savoury notes, elegant	R381,00

Pinotage

Typically, Pinotage produces smoky, earthy flavoured wines with banana & tropical fruit notes. Pinotage was originally bred in Stellenbosch, South Africa as a cross between Pinot Noir & Cinsault. To this day most of the worlds Pinotage is grown in South Africa. A versatile grape which is made into easy-drinking wines as well barrel aged full-bodied wine. Pinotage tends to blend well with spicy dishes as well as mushroom, aubergine vegetarian dishes. Cheese & charcuterie are also good pairing options due to the slightly sweet notes often found in younger wines.

De Waal - Stellenbosch 2018 - Medium bodied, plum & cherry on the nose. Lingering finish	R300,00
Grangehurst - Stellenbosch 2009 - Red berry & plum fruitiness with vanilla, oak & spice	R656,00

Middelvlei - Devon Valley 2018 - Sweet raspberry, mulberry & elegant oak spices	R407,00
Aaldering - Devon Valley 2019 - Sense of cherry & sweet tobacco, red pepper & strawberry	R625,00
Dornier - Stellenbosch 2018 - Black cherry & dark berry, hints of tobacco & nutmeg	R570,00

Shiraz

Syrah is generally labelled as Shiraz in South Africa. Syrah is sometimes thought to be more like classic Northern Rhone red, while the South African Shiraz is thought to be more fruit driven, higher in alcohol & peppery rather than smoky. Shiraz tends to have spice notes of liquorice, anise & earthy leather with soft tannins. Shiraz pairs well with beef, pork & duck. Dishes with strong sauces that are not too sweet & hard cheeses.

Cavalli Black Beauty - Stellenbosch 2020 - Dark fruits & liquorice, hints of vanilla & pepper	R275,00

The Hills - Devon Valley 2010 - Soft tannins, ripe plum & dark berry flavours	R294,00

Pinot Noir

Due to the thin skin of the Pinot Noir grapes the wine produced is mostly lighter in colour, medium bodied with low tannins. Younger wines tend to have red fruit aromas such as cherries, raspberries, and strawberries while aged wines develop vegetal attributes with add to the complexity. Due to the cooler climate, most South African Pinot Noir are grown in the Elgin area. Duck, mushrooms, and salmon dishes pair well with most Pinot Nour dishes, while South African varieties pair well with poultry dishes & dark chocolate desserts.
