Red Wine

Cabernet Sauvignon

The classic profile of this cultivars known to be full bodied with high tannins & noticeable acidity which makes the aging potential superb. The most widely planted red wine grape in South Africa; Stellenbosch Cabernet Sauvignons are heavier, fuller bodied while Constantia's Cabernet Sauvignon wines are characterized by their herbal & minty flavours. The bold, assertive characteristics tend to overwhelm lighter, delicate dishes. Grilled & charred dishes pair well, as well as buttery sauces which neutralize the tannins & open the wines fruity flavours.

The Hills - Devon Valley 2014 - Hints of cedar & cigar box, french oak	R312,00
De Meye - Stellenbosch 2020 - Soft tannin, mocha & dark cherry	R344,00
Middelvlei - Devon Valley 2019 - Intense dark blackberry, cherry flavour, subtle tannins	R576,00
Meinert - Devon Valley 2017 - Mix of red berry, cherry, spicy oak & hints of liquorice	R642,00
Clos Malverne Reserve - Devon Valley 2018 - Dark fruit flavour with underlying notes of mint & cassis	R674,00

Merlot

There are two main styles that Merlot producers' favour; one is emphasised late harvesting - which contributes to more full-bodied wines with higher alcohol levels. These tend to also have intense plum-blackberry flavours. While the more traditional style involves earlier harvesting to maintain acidity & produce medium bodied wines with fresh fruit flavour & often vegetal notes. Therefore, Merlot is one of the more diverse cultivars. South African Merlots tend to be made in a "chocolatey glossy California style". The diversity of Merlot lends itself to a wide array of food pairing options but like Cabernet Sauvignon they pair well with grilled & charred dishes as well as soft cheeses.

Robert Alexander - Stellenbosch 2019 - Herb notes, mokka & fruity palate, spicy finish	R336,00
Delheim - Stellenbosch 2019 - Mulberry, black cherry with cigar box finish	R396,00
Ken Forrester - Helderberg 2021 - Hints of coffee, blackberry with soft tannins	R413,00
De Grendel - Durbanville 2020 - Full bodied, nose of berries, liquorice & mocha flavours	R498,00
Stellekaya - Stellenbosch 2019 - Dark berry fruit, earth & savoury notes, elegant	R548,00

Pinotage

Typically, Pinotage produces smoky, earthy flavoured wines with banana & tropical fruit notes. Pinotage was originally bred in Stellenbosch, South Africa, as a cross between Pinot Noir & Cinsault. To this day most of the worlds Pinotage is grown in South Africa. A versatile grape which is made into easy-drinking wines as well barrel aged full-bodied wine. Pinotage tends to blend well with spicy dishes as well as mushroom, aubergine, vegetarian dishes. Cheese & charcuterie are also good pairing options due to the slightly sweet notes often found in younger wines.

De Waal - Stellenbosch 2020 - Medium bodied, plum & cherry on the nose. Lingering finish	R352,00
Dornier - Stellenbosch 2018 - Black cherry & dark berry, hints of tobacco & nutmeg	R429,00
Middelvlei - Devon Valley 2018 - Sweet raspberry, mulberry & elegant oak spices	R464,00
Aaldering - Devon Valley 2020 - Sense of cherry & sweet tobacco, red pepper & strawberry	R625,00
Kanonkop - Stellenbosch 2020 - Full bodied, sweet blackberry & oak aromas	R1429,00

Shiraz

Syrah is generally labelled as Shiraz in South Africa. Syrah is sometimes thought to be more like classic Northern Rhone red, while the South African Shiraz is thought to be more fruit driven, higher in alcohol & peppery rather than smoky. Shiraz tends to have spice notes of liquorice, anise & earthy leather with soft tannins. Shiraz pairs well with beef, pork & duck. Dishes with strong sauces that are not too sweet & hard cheeses.

Louisvale – Devon Valley 2020 - Stone Road range, deep ruby colour, glorious plum aroma	R198,00
The Hills – Devon Valley 2014 - Soft tannins, ripe plum & dark berry flavours	R320,00
Cavalli - Stellenbosch 2021 - Dark fruits & liquorice, hints of vanilla & pepper	R352,00

Aardering – Devon Valley 2018 - Rich with plum, leather, dark cherries & white pepper	R625,00

Pinot Noir

Due to the thin skin of the Pinot Noir grapes the wine produced is mostly lighter in colour, medium bodied with low tannins. Younger wines tend to have red fruit aromas such as cherries, raspberries, & strawberries while aged wines develop vegetal attributes with add to the complexity. Due to the cooler climate, most South African Pinot Noir are grown in the Elgin area. Duck, mushrooms & salmon dishes pair well with most Pinot Nour dishes, while South African varieties pair well with poultry dishes & dark chocolate desserts.

Haute Cabriere - Franschhoek 2022 - Unwooded, abundance of red berries	R300,00
The Hills - Devon Valley 2019 - Floral cherry & stewed berry aromas, vanilla bean	R448,00

Malbec

Malbec is darker in colour than most red wines. Typical flavour profile includes juicy dark berries, tobacco, garlic & raisin with certain herbal aromas. Sweet-spicy dishes compliment the flavour profile of Malbec well. Malbec has a versatility which pairs well with game dishes as well as creamy vegetarian meals.

White Wines

Chenin Blanc

A medium to full bodied wine, with high acidity & generally a dry style. Typical flavours include quince & apples. Chenin Blanc is the most widely planted varietal in South Africa & even produces double the yield of that in France. It is thought that Chenin Blanc was also the first white wine grape grown in South Africa. The style is best described as off-dry, crisp wines. Chenin Blanc is also used for many local Brandies. Lighten wines pair well with salads, fish & pizza dishes.

Gin

Gin derives its predominated flavour from juniper berries & often different botanicals are added. South African Gin has grown rapidly in the last few years. In the Cape we have Fynbos, which forms part of the Cape Floral Kingdom. This vegetation region is both the smallest & richest floral kingdom on earth, with a concentration of 1300 plant species per 10000m². Three times the amount of the second richest, the Amazon. That said, it is easy to see why Gin made from cape botanicals are so unique and coveted. Each of the local Gins have an abundance of indigenous flora as ingredients.
